For the wood part, solid beech or ash is used by standard unless different wood specified. It has very unique manufacturing method especially on the edges where the wood frame and upholstered part meet. Upholstered backrest and seat parts inserted into channel opened on the wood frame. This technique ensures perfect seamless upholstery work.

It may be used in high concept restaurant and cafes. Around any dining tables in modern but warmly designed dining rooms. Or in design-oriented office break-out rooms. There are with or without arm versions available. Wood part can be designed in desired color wood stain.
